

good women

they do exist.
you can be one.
this is the project.

First and foremost, thank you for your interest and passion for The Good Women Project. Your time, your story, and your heart is of so much value to us.

This document is for you to keep, and exists to outline the expectations and conditions of contributing to GWP in order to have a consistent standard. We seek to publish quality material at all times, therefore retain rights allowing us to best do so.

As senior editor, Lauren Dubinsky retains the right to edit submissions in a reasonable manner in order to best adhere to GWP's mission statement and to communicate concise, relevant content.

Due to the nature of GWP, we allow the option of publishing as Anonymous. GWP promises to refrain from publishing your identity at your request. If you do not request Anonymity, GWP reserves the right to publish your name and any public information available to GWP, including but not limited to your blog, Twitter, or website. Personal (unpublic) information such as email address and phone numbers will not be published, including any contact information you request to remain unpublished.

By submitting to GWP, you give full consent to publish your submission digitally and in print. By publishing your story, GWP obtains first-time publication rights. You do retain all rights to distribute your submission to Self and others. We do accept submissions previously published elsewhere.

At any time, you may request to have any previous submissions which you authored withdrawn by emailing us at goodwomenproject@gmail.com with the words "request to withdraw" in the subject line. Your request will be processed within 48 hours, and the submission in question will be removed.

Thank you,

Lauren Dubinsky
